

To the FCC:

Why not traffic & weather on satellite radio. When traveling in the past we have experienced totally incorrect info. when calling for traffic updates thru signage given to us by the state or whatever agency is supposedly giving out updated traffic , even when movement on the turnpikes have totally stopped (usually no info. is given at all). The telephone numbers given on the highways or stations we're told to dial too are up to 1 hour behind. It's very frustrating, why dangle the source of information at all if it's not given. Let's try another source before taking it away.
